He observed the graciousness of one; discipline a long time: but rather as though making a beginning daily let us increase our earnestness. For the whole life of man is very short, For when the soul has its spiritual faculty in a natural state virtue is formed. And it is in a natural state when it remains as it came into existence.

Meher Baba (born Merwan Sheriar Irani; 25 February 1894 – 31 January 1969) was an Indian spiritual master who claimed to be his era's Avatar, or God in human form. A major spiritual figure of the 20th century, he was the central figure around the "Meher Baba Movement", and estimates of his following range from the hundreds of thousands to the millions.
